

PUBLIC LEADER

THIRD YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., TUESDAY, MARCH 27, 1894.

ONE CENT.

What is the "Seigniorage"? Now that the question of seigniorage is agitating the following definition of the given in the Century Dictionary:

"Seigniorage: Something claimed by the sovereign or by a superior as a prerogative; specifically, an ancient royalty or prerogative of the crown, whereby it claimed a percentage upon bullion brought to the mint to be coined or to be exchanged for coin; the difference between the cost of a mass of bullion and the face value of the pieces coined from it." The dictionary follows the definition with the following quotation from John Stuart Mill:

"If Government, however, throws the expense of coining as is reasonable, upon makers, by making a charge to cover the expense (which is done by giving back rather less in coin than is received in bullion, and is called 'levying a seigniorage') the coin will rise to the extent of the seigniorage above the value of the bullion."

THE RETIRED BURGLAR.

He Meets a Cool Man in Eastern Connecticut.

"I think about the most curious man I ever met," said the retired burglar, "I met in a house in Eastern Connecticut, and I shouldn't know him either if I should meet him again unless I should hear him speak. It was so dark where I met him that I never saw him at all. I had looked around the house down stairs, and actually hadn't seen a thing worth carrying off. It was the poorest house I ever was in, and it wasn't a bad looking house on the outside either. I got up stairs and groped around a little, and finally turned into a room that was darker than Egypt. I hadn't gone more than three steps in this room when I heard a man say:

"Hello, there."
"Hello," said the burglar.
"Who are you, says the man, 'burglar'?"
"And I said yes, I did do something in that line occasionally."
"Miserable business to be in, ain't it?" said the man. His voice came from a bed over in the corner of the room, and I knew he hadn't even yet up."

"And I said: 'Well, I dunno. I got to support my family some way.'"
"Well, you've just wasted a night here," says the man. "Did you see anything down stairs worth stealing?"
"And I said no I hadn't."

"Well, there's less up stairs," says the man, "and then I heard him turn over and over and go to sleep again. I'd like to have gone over there and kicked him, but I didn't. It was getting late and I thought, all things considered, that I might just as well let him have his sleep out."

IT'S SO IF IT'S IN THE LEDGER.

OLIVER P. SCLAVAN, prominent politician and Democratic politician, solicited by shooting at New Richmond, O.

The banner year for railroad building in this country was 1887. In that year, 13,878 miles of new track were completed and put in operation.

The cost of the Union Pacific is given at $153,529,559.93. The present value of all its property of every description is given at $245,481,041.92.

HIS HEART ALL RIGHT.

It Was Our Young Friend Spalding's Head That Was Hurt.

The following letter doesn't need a diagram of any sort:

LOUISVILLE, March 26th, 1894. Thomas A. Davis, Esq.—Dear Sir:

You were mistaken in my heart feeling. It was a failure of my head. My heart is all right; but hard as my head, it is not intended to come in competition with a brick wall. My head is improving slowly, and the wall is not injured in the least.

Well, it turns out that Miss Pollard seduced that innocent young Congressman. She ought to be ashamed of herself. Poor fellow! Kentucky is in tears, and so are the Boston and New York Leagues. What a pity such an inexperienced youth should be treated so mean.

Yours truly, D. SPALDING.

In eleven principal Western states the building of 36,000 miles of railroad line caused the settlement of $8,500,000 acres of farming land.

Five small boats that are running in the Cincinnati and Augusta trade are fairly turning the river in their endeavor to secure the trade. Let the best and cheapest and the fastest boat win.

The champion egg eater of the state lives at Harrodsburg, in the person of John Street, a farmer sixty-one years old, and in comfortable circumstances. He has just finished the feat of eating ninety-three dozen eggs in ninety-three consecutive days. The eggs were cooked in various styles for each meal.

JOHN HOSTETTER, who was a candidate for Jailer of Fayette county, shot and instantly killed Henry Jackson, colored. Jackson was in Hostetter's henhouse and with the assistance of two other negroes had reduced Hostetter's fowls from eighty-three in number to thirty-two.

The negro's head was shot off above the ears.

CLAY is one of Kentucky's Prohibition mountain counties. It seems, however, that up there Prohibition doesn't prohibit worth a cent. There are at present on the docket of the Circuit Court twenty-five murder cases. Moonshine and blind tiger liquor seems to have got in its work.

At least most of the crimes are attributed to whiskey drinking.

SUPREME PRESIDENT TAYLOR of the A. P. A. made a speech at Salt Lake City on the objects and aims of the association. He declared that the Order now controlled two million votes and would name United States Senators in several Western states next year. He also said that it was through the influence of the organization that John Y. McKane was sent to Sing Sing.

The Winchester City Council proposes to fix license as follows: Saloons, $30; quart houses, $150; drugstores, $75; mills, $30; express companies, $20; laundries and laundry agents, $30; telegraph companies, $5; livery stables, $20; coal yards, $10; billiard and pool tables, $40; auctioneers, per year, $10; business houses, three grades—business of $5,000 or over, $5; business of $2,000 or over, $3; business of $1,000 or over, $2; milk wagon, $2.

MANCHESTER, O., March 26th, 1894. Editor Public Ledger: Since the case in Public Ledger relative to my case I have received a great many stamps from your state. I have been very busy with my stamp for the past two weeks. I sort each denomination separately, and tie up bunches, 100 in each bunch. This is no little task, especially for one who cannot sit up to do the work. I have on my back day and night, and have not had my feet to the floor for over four years. I was almost discouraged in my effort to secure so great a number of stamps until the papers came to my rescue. I believe now I can secure the one million. All denominations are accepted, but care should be taken not to mutilate them in separating them from the paper. In other words, the stamps should be entire. Good grammar for over should be cut out square (not round) with a margin one quarter of an inch wide. I received a great many stamps, but in sorting I found a great many that are torn or cut too closely. I often lose as many as $200 out of $500. These stamps are sent to Germany for decorative purposes. I desire to thank each one who has contributed stamps for my benefit. Respectfully, DOLLIE ROSE.

Many thanks for $500 stamps received some few days since from your young readers. DOLLIE ROSE.

A MADISON county man stuck his feet through a rail fence and tried to warm them in the moonlight.

THE BRACKEN County Grand Jury indicted George L. Salt and F. A. Bradley for running a gambling shop, but did not indict those who were trying to win.

ELVEN members of a Denver jury sworn in to two Catholics were found to be members of the A. P. A. and the entire panel was discharged. Well, that was the right thing to do; but our Catholic friends think it's all right to have a Catholic jury to try an ex-Priest.

FROM the best information obtainable it is believed that the President will veto the Bland Seigniorage Bill. The veto will raise a big rumour, and many Democratic members of the House and Senate who have been up to this time friendly to the Administration will, after the President's veto, give it the cold shoulder.

Here's Another.

Professor L. B. Leech, who has been Principal of the Public Schools at Catlettsburg for the last three years, was stabbed in three places by John Emerick, aged 18 years, one of the pupils. He received one cut on the left hand and two in the right arm. The trouble came up over a reprimand given Emerick. Professor Leech is from Lebanon. He says he will send in his resignation to the Board; that he does not feel that he could teach another term after what has happened. If he should do this, a petition will be signed by the school asking him to remain.

CLEVELAND'S HAT SOLD.

The President Failed to Pay the Duty—Price, 15 cents.

An English silk hat, says The New York Press, designed to beautify the appearance of the Chief Magistrate of the United States, has found its way to a Baxter street man's furnishing store without even having touched the head of the President. Now a dire calamity may occur. The English title may be worn by one of Cleveland's bitterest enemies—Tammany.

The hat was part of the seized merchandise put under the hammer by Auctioneer Hyatt because the importers had neglected to pay duty. There was all kinds of stuff, but only one hat, and that created as much competition as if it had once belonged to the Prince of Wales.

Officially, the hat was known as "Lot 1,451, one package, one silk hat, foreign value $7.75 and American value $2." The hat was inspected and found to be the hat.

It was marked "For the President, care the Consul."

When Auctioneer Hyatt came to the lot he cleared his throat for he thought there would be a strong rivalry. The cashier called for a new cash box to hold the proceeds. He did not need it though.

"What am I bid for this hat?" said Mr. Hyatt, and the answer came in a small, weak voice, "One cent." "One cent, one cent," yelled the auctioneer. And then somebody raised the price to two cents.

The hat was inspected and found to be the hat. No. 12. Everyone tried it on, and finally fifteen cents was reached.

"Going, going, going," yelled the auctioneer. "Gone," and the hat was knocked down for fifteen cents.

The purchaser was a man of small stature, and as he donned the hat on becoming its owner it was found that the rim rested on his shoulders. He declined to say what he will do with it.

Someone suggested that he would present it to his grandchildren, to bequeath to some museum as "the hat which the last Democratic President came very near wearing."

MAYSVILLE WEATHER.

What We May Expect For the Next Twenty-Four Hours.

THE LEADER'S WEATHER SIGNALS.

White streamer—Fair.
Blue—Rain of snow.
With black above—will warmer grow.
If black's beneath—older than we'll be.
Unless black's shown—no chance we'll see.

The above forecasts are made for a period of twenty-four hours, ending at 8 o'clock to-morrow evening.

THE LOSS OF MARCH.

'Tis but a year ago
Since I was landed here,
And yet how many things
Have happened in the year!

Just fancy that, I
Ava Crest for the nonce,
Behold my First-rate cloak,
'Twas wooed more than once.

Here Brutus Hill his knife
Inserted, and, alas,
Then Caesar Murphy came
And ripped it up the back.

'Tis not the cloak I wore
A year ago at all;
It hangs around my great form
Just like a furral pall.

Yet I remain the great,
The only, Grover C.,
And Lily O Keelan,
And she's all the world to me.
